CACI is working hard this summer and fall to create a pro-business legislature next year with the endorsement and financial support of pro-business legislative candidates, both incumbents and new, who will listen to employers' concerns.

The candidates will meet with CB-PAC members and CACI staff. Each candidate will be granted a half-hour interview. At the end of each interview, there will be time for discussion with the candidate.

CACI members can participate in the interviews by contributing $500 to CB-PAC. Individuals, companies and PACs can contribute up to $500 during the two-year, 2009-2010 election cycle to a political action committee such as CB-PAC.

CACI members who wish to contribute to CB-PAC should contact Denise Reeves, CACI Vice President of Events and Programs, at 303.866.9622 or via e-mail at dreeves@COchamber.com. Or CACI members can mail checks for $500 made out to the Colorado Business Political Action Committee to the CACI Office.

Members who contribute to CB-PAC will receive a candidate summary, which will include background, campaign contributions, his or her campaign status and legislative district demographics. Refreshments will be provided during the interview process, and a lunch break will be provided.

CACI's endorsement means that a candidate will, in most cases, receive $400 from CB-PAC. $400 is the maximum that a PAC can contribute to a legislative candidate during the 2009-2010 election cycle.
